

PART 5. SPEAKING

Dear agony aunt!

Last term we had a biology exam at school. I knew I wasn't going to do well, so I cheated. I found the answers in my teacher's computer. I got the best mark in my class. My parents were really proud of me. Now I am in a new biology class.

Everyone is really clever here and I don't understand the work. I hate this class but I'm too embarrassed to admit I cheated and I don't want to disappoint my parents.

What should I do?

Nick

Give a piece of advice to Nick, as if you were an agony aunt. Mind that the problem is rather difficult and the advice should include a plan / a strategy of actions. You have 5 minutes to prepare and 2 minutes to talk continuously (introduction, advice and reasons, conclusion).

Use the prompts:

- If I were you, I'd ...
- You should ...
- You need to ...
- Whatever you do, you mustn't...
- You could try ...
- It would be a good idea to...

Your answer will be recorded